DELAY IN THOMAS CONFIRMATION

Not Expected Now For at Least Ten Days—Senate Subcommittee Members Are Leaving Washington—New Hampshire Senator Claims He Has Not Really Protested.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, Nov. 3.—Edwin S. Thomas of New Haven is not expected to be confirmed as United States district judge by the senate for at least ten days, if then. Members of the sub-committee on judiciary having charge of the case are leaving the city. Senator Walsh of Montana, chairman of the sub-committee, has gone to Massachusetts to speak in the campaign. Senator O'Gorman is going to New York for the city election, Senator Brandegee, another member of the judiciary committee, is in Connecticut and various other members of the committee are absent. Consequently the committee is not expected to have its regular Monday meeting this week. The next meeting is not due until Nov. 10.

Of the sub-committee, Senator Sutherland of Utah declines to discuss the Thomas case. Senator O'Gorman has been favorably inclined towards Thomas. Senator Walsh has been repeatedly opposed to Thomas, although he has declined to state his attitude even if the sub-committee reports favorably. However, on account of Senator Hollis of New Hampshire withdrawing his protest against Thomas, the full committee cannot act for over a week and the senate will not act until some day later.

Since Thomas' friends have communicated with Hollis, the New Hampshire senator has been busy explaining that his protest was not really a protest. Speaking in the vernacular, he has apparently gotten "cold feet." His letter has been on file with the committee for about two weeks. In the letter he stated that Connecticut friends of his informed him that Thomas had not sufficient legal knowledge and experience to qualify him for the bench. Hollis is understood to have suggested that the matter be investigated. The inquiry has been going on since then, but its result is not positively known, but the fact that Hollis' protest, the one concrete and specific thing of importance against Thomas, has been cancelled by verbal statements of the New Hampshire senator, makes the situation look not bad for Thomas.

$1,000 DAMAGES CLAIMED FOR HOBERIK BOY.

Father Brings Suit Against John Lee of Griswold.

Damages of $1,000 are claimed in a suit brought in the superior court and returnable in November by Albin Hoberik of Griswold against John Lee of the same town. The plaintiff is a minor, and the suit is brought by his father, Alexander Hoberik. An attachment for $2,000 has been placed upon real estate of the defendant. It is alleged in the complaint that on August 27, 1913, a minor son of the defendant was driving a milk wagon belonging to the Mr. Lee along a highway in Griswold and that the horse and wagon were driven into a yard where the minor son of the plaintiff was standing and that the boy was struck by the horse and team and badly injured, through cuts and bruises which he sustained when he was knocked down.

HEBREW DRAMA.

Young Men's Social Club Presents It in Creditable Form at Colonial Theatre.

The Young Men's Social club, composed of young Hebrew boys of this city, celebrated their first anniversary by giving a dramatic play Sunday evening at the Colonial theatre. Five hundred people listened to a very interesting talk by Dr. Leon Kapelwitz of New London and later a two act drama entitled "Convict 883," was given with a cast of eight. Nae Myer couple and A. Rosenthal of Philadelphia in the leading role as the convict. This was well balanced by Mrs. D. Lazarov as the bride, Harry Mandel as the villain, Daniel Lazarov as the detective and a Rostenthal of Philadelphia in the leading role as the convict. This was well balanced by Mrs. D. Pastor's Father to Lecture.

At the Men's meeting of the Congregational church next Monday evening, Rev. W. W. MacLane, father of Rev. D. B. MacLane, the pastor, will give a stereoscopic lecture on Egypt. Dr. MacLane has visited Egypt and the lecture will be very interesting and instructive.

Occum Defeated Danielson at Croquet.

The St. Joseph Croquet club of Occum defeated the Danielson club in Occum Sunday in a match tournament, winning two out of three games. The Danielson club of Taftville also defeated Danielson in a match tournament, winning two out of three games. A large crowd of spectators who showed no little interest in the games.

Quarantine Removed.

Dr. George Thompson removed the small pox quarantine from the house of John Coffey in Occum on Sunday. Mrs. Coffey who contracted the disease from the Lambert child while making a visit at her home has recovered, her case being a light one.

John Fournier Much Better.

John Fournier of Hunters avenue who was seriously injured several weeks ago in a runaway accident in Occum is steadily gaining strength and is able to be out every day now.

HENS STARTING AGAIN FOR ANOTHER CONTEST

Have Begun Third at Storrs in Egg Laying.

The third annual international egg laying contest opened at Storrs on Saturday. For the first time this competition is under the exclusive management of the Connecticut Agricultural College and the Agricultural Experiment Station. Before this Rhode Island has never been represented in the egg laying contests and there has been but one entry from Massachusetts. This year, however, there are nine from the Bay State. The number of entries from Connecticut this year is also large, but has been reduced.

There are about 800 birds entered, representing ten states and England. In addition to Rhode Island, Michigan and Ohio have come in this year for the first time. As the full number of pens is not now occupied it is planned to put the reserve birds in the empty houses which enables the contestants to get the trapnest record of eleven birds instead of ten. As five is a small number for use after the competition as a breeding pen, the number was increased this year to ten. While this, of course, cut out a few small breeders, it gave general satisfaction to the poultry public as a whole. They are now able to get a trapnest record for half what it cost heretofore. Again, if one bird does not lay, as has happened in three instances this year, the general average of the pen is not so greatly decreased thereby.

An interesting feature has been added to the competition by the entry of pens from the experiment station for feeding experiments.

The management of the competition has accepted three pens of mongrel birds for the purpose of discovering the greatest production of this class of birds really is.

There are 32 pens entered from Connecticut, 1 from Rhode Island, 9 from Massachusetts, 5 from New Hampshire, 5 from Pennsylvania, 5 from New Jersey, 10 from New York, 1 from Ohio, 1 from West Virginia, 1 from Michigan and 2 from England.

SAYBROOK COUPLE MARRIED AT EMERSON'S GRAVE

Richard Wightman and Mrs. Patricia Margaret Street Married There.

Mutual veneration of Ralph Waldo Emerson led Richard Wightman and Mrs. Patricia Margaret Street, both of Saybrook, Conn., to have their marriage ceremony performed by the grave of the poet and philosopher in Sleepy Hollow cemetery at Concord, Mass. With their hands clasped in front of the quartz boulder, which marks Emerson's burial place, they were pronounced man and wife by Rev. Loren B. MacDonald of Concord. The couple made every effort to have the wedding, which occurred several days ago, kept secret and it did not become known until Monday.

Old Saybrook, Nov. 3.—Richard Wightman and Mrs. Patricia M. Street, while making their home here, have been little known in the community, his business taking them away most of the time. The present Mrs. Wightman has acted as secretary to Mr. Wightman in work in interests of various magazines and is said to be a divorcee. Mr. Wightman is known as a one-time Episcopal clergyman and is also said to have been divorced from his first wife, who was long an invalid.

MACHINE MOVED IN FROM PUMPING STATION.

Pumps and Motors Now Stored Here by Water Department.

Supt. J. J. Corkery of the water department has just completed the work of moving in from Trading Cove brook the pumps and motors which were used there in the summer of 1911 for the pumping station which was in use during the water shortage here. The pumps and motors have been moved in and placed at the water department's storeroom. At recent meeting the water commissioners authorized the sale of the pumping station equipment and Superintendent Corkery has been advertising the Trading Cove brook filters for sale in journals that reach the field where filters might be wanted. The lease which the city had of the land where the pumping station was located expires on Dec. 1st.

The pipe line which was laid in to the city to carry the water will be allowed to remain in the ground. Superintendent Corkery said that the expense of digging it up and taking it out would be more than the pipe would be worth.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.

Favorable Report on Discharge of John A. Moran—Trustee in Peter Schaff Petition.

Before A. A. Browning, referee in bankruptcy, a hearing was held on Monday morning in the matter of the discharge of John A. Moran of this city, bankrupt. A favorable report for discharge is to be made. One dividend of 10 per cent has been paid in this estate, and it is understood that there will be another dividend to follow.

In the bankruptcy of Peter Schaff of Montville, V. P. A. Quinn was appointed trustee. The appraisers were not named. The petitioner was formerly in the milk business in Brooklyn, N. Y., and this schedule shows that his creditors are all Brooklyn or New York firms. There is a total of unsecured claims of $1,050.38. The assets are put in at a total of $372.78, consisting of household goods of $50, property claimed as exempt $20, and debts due on open accounts $322.78. These are mostly for milk bills owed the bankrupt in Brooklyn.

The court has named November 17th as the date for a meeting of the creditors in the Yantic Woolen company's bankruptcy upon the matter of a dividend to priority creditors.

HAD COUNCIL CHAMBER READY FOR MEETING.

Assistant Janitor Fields Contributed Bouquet of Chrysanthemums for Re-opening.

By some hustling on Monday, Assistant Janitor Samuel Fields at the court house got the council chamber into spick and span condition for the first meeting of the council since the room has had the new steel ceiling and other improvements made in it about the last thing he had to do at the end of last week was to put down the handsome new carpet, and on Monday he put up the picture rail, hung the pictures of the mayors, and the newly varnished parts of the room and the desks which had not been varnished a final rubbing off that made them glister.

A beautiful bouquet of white and yellow chrysanthemums from the Fields greenhouses. The splendid large flowers were placed upon the table in front of Mayor Murphy's desk, and drew admiring comment from all who saw them.

SLUMP AT STORRS IN EGG LAYING.

Fifteen Pens of Leghorns Did Not Produce an Egg.

The total egg production for the first week of the international egg laying contest at Storrs was 521. The great drop in egg production is due to the Leghorn birds of whom have stopped laying for the year. The best record for any pen of Leghorns was 12 eggs. This was made by the pen owned by F. T. Yonish of Sayre, Pa. There are 15 pens of Leghorns that did not produce an egg during the week.

The best record for the week was 19 eggs. This was made by the pen of A. B. Hall of Wallingford, Ct., and the pen of white Wyandottes belonging to Edward Cam of Houghton, Eng. This pen dropped to sixth place in the contest, but has recently started producing heavily and will probably end in fourth place with a total of over 1,000 eggs.

Second to these came the pens of white Wyandottes owned by T. J. McCornell of Hancock, N. Y., and the pen of single comb Rhode Island Reds owned by Woodman & Smith of Wycombe, Pa. These pens produced 17 eggs. Fourteen eggs were produced by the pen of Columbian Plymouth Rocks belonging to J. M. Jones of Honesdale, Pa.

There were two unusually large eggs produced during the week. The largest weighed 21-100ths of a pound and was laid by a barred Plymouth Rock owned by E. Hall of Wallingford, Ct. The other, weighing 19-100ths of a pound, was produced by a white laced Red Cornish belonging to W. H. Card of Worcester, Ct.

The following is a complete list of the leading pens as they stand at the end of the first week, with the total number of eggs laid by each:

Tom Brown of Catford, Eng., single comb white Leghorns, 1185; Edward Cam of Houghton, Eng., single comb white Leghorns, 1102; W. L. Sleeper of York, Pa., single comb white Leghorns, 1023; O. A. Foster of Santa Cruz, single comb white Leghorns, 997; Edward Cam of Houghton, Eng., white Wyandottes, 993; Colonial farm of Tompe, N. J., single comb Rhode Island Reds, 963; Frank Toulmin of Burnley, Eng., single comb white Leghorns, 954; W. P. Canby of East Downington, single comb white Leghorns, 947; Mrs. H. Francis Haynes of Shoup, Idaho, white Wyandottes, 944; Burton E. Moore of Winsted, Ct., single comb white Leghorns, 940; Smit Bros. of Allentown, Pa., single comb white Leghorns, 931; Frank A. Jones of Northumberland, Pa., single comb white Leghorns, 928; Beulah farm of Creek, Ont., white Wyandottes, 923; Braeside poultry farm of Stroudsburg, Pa., single comb white Leghorns, 907.

At the end of the first week there are 65 individuals that have produced over 200 eggs. Of this number 41 are single comb white Leghorns, 11 white Wyandottes, 4 single comb Rhode Island Reds, 2 single comb Plymouth Rocks, 2 buff Plymouth Rocks, and 1 of each of the following: White Plymouth Rocks, buff Plymouth Rocks, single comb buff Leghorns, white Orpingtons and buff Orpingtons. The best white Leghorn score is 277 eggs; the best white Wyandotte, 247; the best Rhode Island Red, 245; while the other varieties range from 201 to 219. The contest will end this week.

SUCCEEDS MISS HOPKINS.

Colin S. Buell of New London Elected Financial Secretary of State Teachers' Annuity Guild, Which Has $71,830 Invested.

At the annual meeting of the Connecticut Teachers' Annuity Guild, held Saturday, in the old supreme court room at the Capitol, officers were elected as follows:
